

The company's values are:

- EXPERIENCE: Our experience is based on extensive knowledge gained over time and continuous exploration of new frontiers. This represents one of the fundamental pillars of our business operations.
- QUALITY: our commitment to quality is reflected in the constant pursuit of excellence, not only in the product, but also in business and administrative relations, to ensure the full satisfaction of our customers.
- INNOVATION: We remain at the forefront of the evolving world of work. We adopt advanced technologies, explore new international markets and use innovative technical materials to maintain our competitiveness in an ever-developing market.
- HUMAN RESOURCES: Our company is built on people, each of whom is essential to success. In a dynamic reality like ours, we seek and value dedicated and competent personnel, promoting mutual and continuous growth.

Management has decided to adopt and maintain a Quality Management System, compliant with UNI EN ISO 9001:2015, with the aim of:

- collaborate with a robust supply chain that can guarantee high levels in product food safety;
- achieve a dominant position in the European market of suppliers of flexible packaging and laminating components;
- expand the range of products offered to the market by incorporating next-generation materials;
- modernize the machine park and infrastructure for optimizing energy efficiency;
- strengthen know-how with the constant development of human resources;
- make the organizational structure flexible, effective and efficient;
- Constantly comply with current regulatory requirements;
- raise awareness and actively involve all personnel, both internal and external, who participate in production.
- Continuously improve business processes and resource management, with special attention to industry innovations.

In cooperation with other business functions, Management defines performance indicators for the various business processes, ensuring maximum commitment and adequate resources to achieve the set goals.

Management is committed to managing and supervising the QMS according to current regulations, with a Risk-Based Thinking oriented approach. Company policies are disseminated to all employees through postings in workplaces, meetings, training sessions and internal communications to constantly update staff on improvement actions and new company goals, and, in addition, are shared with relevant Stakeholders in response to specific needs and requests.
